1.0 INTRODUCTION

The Constituency Development Act 2013 stipulates that the CDPC shall convene open forum public meetings at in every ward in the constituency to deliberate on development matters and project priorities in the ward and the constituency at large, where community members get the opportunity to identify development projects for implementation. These are then prioritized by the Constituency Development Fund Committee (CDFC) after an analysis of the same.

The exercise was carried out over a period of four days in all the 6 wards in the constituency.

Citizen participation in project implementation Members of the public involvement in the implementation of NG CDF projects has been through the Project Management Committees (PMCs) which comprise of members of the public who manage and oversee the implementation of individual NG CDF projects

Public participation encompasses a range of procedures and methods designed to consult, involve, and inform the public to allow those that would be potentially affected by a decision or policy to have input into the process

Stakeholder engagement broadly refers to a framework of policies, principles, and techniques which ensure that citizens and communities, individuals, groups, and organizations have the opportunity to be engaged in a meaningful way in the process of decision-making that will affect them, or in which they have an interest. Thus, public participation can be recognized as a practice of stakeholder engagement.

1.1 ABOUT CDF

The Constituency Development Fund (CDF) was introduced in Kenya in 2003 with the passage of the CDF Act 2003 by the 9th Parliament of Kenya which was repealed in 2013 by the CDF Act 2013. The CDF Act provides that the government set aside at least 2.5% of its ordinary revenue for disbursement under the CDF program.

The fund was designed to support constituency-level, grass-root development projects. It was aimed to achieve equitable distribution of development resources across regions and to control imbalances in regional development brought about by partisan politics.
